COOKIES

What are cookies?

Cookies are text files, comprised of a small amount of data, that are saved on your computer or other device (e.g., smartphone, tablet, etc.) when you use the Internet and visit various websites.

We use cookies necessary to the operation of the Service, for analytics and for marketing purposes.

We use cookies for the following purposes:

Necessary. Cookies that are strictly necessary for the functioning of the Service. The Service cannot operate properly without these cookies.

Analytics. Analytics cookies operated by third parties, such as LinkedIn, Google, and Facebook, that assist us in understanding how users interact with the Service by collecting data that, by itself, does not directly identify you.

Marketing. Marketing cookies operated by third parties, such as LinkedIn, Google, and Facebook, that track your use of the Service and allow us to tailor content, both on and off the Service, that we believe is relevant to you.

Our cookie management tool provides you detailed information about the cookies we use and enables you to control their use.

We use a cookie management tool to provide you more information about the cookies we use. It also enables you to control the use of analytics and marketing cookies. You can change your mind at any time by enabling or disabling certain cookies or categories of cookies. However, you cannot disable the 'necessary' cookies because the Service cannot operate without them. By enabling cookies, you give your consent to collect the data they are intended for.

SECURITY AND DATA RETENTION

We retain your personal data as long as you are a registered user of the Service and thereafter for compliance and legal purposes.

We retain your personal data as long as you are a registered user of the Service. Thereafter, we will continue to retain your personal information as necessary to comply with our legal obligations, resolve disputes, establish, and defend legal claims. We will also retain aggregated Use Information for research purposes after removing any data that may directly identify you.

We implement measures to secure your Information.

We implement measures to reduce the risks of damage, loss of information and unauthorized access or use of information. However, these measures do not provide absolute security. Therefore, although efforts are made to secure your personal information, it is not guaranteed, and you cannot expect that the Service will be completely protected from information security risks.

INTERNATIONAL DATA TRANSFER

We will transfer your Information internationally only in accordance with applicable data protection laws.

The Service, by its nature as an online service, may store and process Information in various locations throughout the globe, including through cloud services.

Transfer of Information outside the EU. Information we collect from you will be processed in Israel, which is recognized by the European Commission as having adequate protection for personal data.

When we transfer your information from within the EU to the United States or other countries that are not recognized by the European commission as having adequate protection for personal data, we will endeavor to do so while using adequate safeguards determined by the European commission, such as the privacy shield framework for the United States.

YOUR EU RIGHTS

You have the right to access, update or delete your Information and obtain a copy of your Information.

If you are an individual in the EU, you have the following rights:

Right to Access your personal data that we process and receive a copy of it.

Right to Rectify inaccurate personal data we have concerning you and to have incomplete personal data completed.

Right to Data Portability, that is, to receive the personal data that you provided to us, in a structured, commonly used and machine-readable format. You have the right to transmit this data to another service provider. Where technically feasible, you have the right that your personal data be transmitted directly from us to the service provider you designate.

If the legal basis for processing your personal information is your consent, you may Withdraw Your Consent at any time. If you do that, we will still process certain information on a legal basis other than consent, as described in this Notice. Withdrawing your consent will not affect the lawfulness of data processing we carried out based on your consent before such withdrawal.

Right to Object, based on your particular situation, to using your personal data on the basis of our legitimate interest. However, we may override the objection if we demonstrate compelling legitimate grounds, or for the establishment, exercise or defense of legal claims. You may also object at any time to the use of your personal data for direct marketing purposes.

Right to Restrict processing your personal data (except for storing it) if you contest the accuracy of your personal data, for a period enabling us to verify its accuracy; if you believe that the processing is unlawful and you oppose the erasure of the personal data and request instead to restrict its use; if we no longer need the personal data for the purposes outlined in this Policy, but you require them to establish, exercise or defend legal claims, or if you object to processing, pending the verification of whether our legitimate grounds for processing override yours.

Right to be Forgotten. Under certain circumstances, such as when you withdraw your consent, you have the right to ask us to erase your personal data. However, we may still process your personal data if it is necessary to comply with a legal obligation we are subject to under laws in EU Member States or for the establishment, exercise or defense of legal claims.

If you wish to exercise any of these rights, contact us at privacy@myndlift.com.

We reserve the right to ask for reasonable evidence to verify your identity before we provide you with information. Where we are not able to provide you with information that you have asked for, we will explain the reason for this.

You have a right to submit a complaint to the relevant supervisory data protection authority. Subject to applicable law, you have the right to lodge a complaint with your local data protection authority. If you are in the EU, you can lodge a complaint to the supervisory authority, in particular in the Member State of your residence or place of work, of an alleged infringement of the GDPR. For a list of supervisory authorities in the EU, click here.
